Office Space

Building an in-plant office within your plant conserves energy, provides noise-free work areas, and allows for better use of warehouse space. Plus, simple permitting processes and unlimited floor plan configurations make them a hassle-free option to expand now and in the future.

Clean rooms

Process oriented designs, mechanical systems, HEPA filtration and a variety of wall surfaces are available to meet your specific needs. Air quality is controlled to meet or exceed the Federal Standard specification limit.
