

In-Plant Offices and Mezzanines

Get the most out of your limited warehouse, factory or plant space.

These noise-free work areas can be located anywhere on your production floor to help improve oversight of work floor operations, efficiency and safety.

Single or Two-Story Offices

- » Our modular in-plant offices can be fitted to your available space and help you keep things on track.
- » Two-story in-plant offices are engineered to make the most of limited space, while creating needed room for management offices, break rooms or training facilities.

Mezzanines

- » Transform the empty space above your warehouse or factory floor into valuable office or storage space. Mezzanines are an excellent way to get more out of any facility without incurring the usual costs associated with expansion or renovation.

Features and Benefits

- » 100% reusable and re-locatable
- » Easy installation with minimal facility disruption
- » Solid construction withstands manufacturing environment
- » Storage roofs with 125 PSF loading
